Team America Rocketry Challenge set for Saturday

A shared prize pool of $59,000 will be awarded to the top five high school teams in the "Team America Rocketry Challenge" on Saturday at Great Meadow, The Plains, Va. NASA Administrator Sean O'Keefe and author Homer Hickam will meet with high school teams that will attempt to launch model rockets carrying two raw eggs to 1,500 feet. NASA will offer the top 10 teams the opportunity to participate in the 2003-2004 NASA Student Launch Initiative and three teams will be chosen to partner with the Marshall Center to design, build and launch a reusable vehicle and payload to an altitude of 5,280 feet.

Mobile Property Pass required to transport federal equipment

Personnel carrying government equipment on to, or off of, Redstone Arsenal and the Marshall Center must have a Mobile Property Pass (MSFC Form 4373). Attempting to enter or exit the Arsenal while in possession of government property without this pass could lead to delays, and confiscation of the equipment. Go to <http://co.msfc.nasa.gov/ad40/propcust.pdf> to find the property support assistant for your organization who can help you fill out this form.
